

MT-460 Computational Finance Project

The topics of projects include, for example, analysis of financial time series data, pricing of financial derivatives via simulation, asset allocation optimization, or formulation of a solution to the problems encountered in Stock market, Corporate finance and Collective investment schemes, Pension funds & Trusts etc. A written project report should be submitted when the project is completed. Evaluation shall be done through an oral examination.